

FREE HEALTH LECTURE

Relieving chronic heartburn

While most of us suffer from heartburn at one time or another, nearly 30 million Americans suffer from chronic heartburn, also known as GERD. Burning pain, burping, coughing and regurgitation are common symptoms of GERD. Left untreated, GERD can lead to serious health problems — sleep apnea, asthma and sometimes esophageal cancer. Luckily, effective treatments are available.

Come learn about the latest approaches for relieving chronic heartburn — from lifestyle changes and medications to new surgical treatments, including da Vinci robot-assisted surgery.

Speaker Susan Skaff Hagen, MD,
of Boulder Valley Surgery

When Thursday, April 24, from 6 to 7 p.m.

Where Congregation Har HaShem
3950 Baseline Rd., Boulder

RSVP Reservations required.
Call 303-441-0580 or visit
bchlectures.org/GERD

Get a hands-on look at our surgical robot before or after the lecture.
Details at bchlectures.org

Boulder
Community Hospital

The best place to get better
bch.org

